

OUR CENTRAL FOCUS IS ENTIRELY ON YOU

We are Glenmede — we rally around a single line of business: investment and wealth management. Founded as a trust company in 1956 by the Pew Family to manage the assets of their charitable interests, we still follow our initial mission — to grow and protect our clients' assets.

Unlike more complex or publicly held firms, our independence frees us to set our own course. There are no conflicts of interest. We do not underwrite securities, make loans or sell insurance products. Instead, we measure success solely by how well we manage your wealth.

As a client, you'll receive unbiased advice and full transparency. You'll always know exactly what assets you own and be secure in the knowledge that they are under our careful scrutiny.

For a focused approach always in your best interest — come to Glenmede.
