

Tax-Exempt Interest Dividends by State for Glenmede Municipal Bond Funds

2011 Tax Information

All of the dividends paid on these funds are tax-exempt interest for federal purposes and reportable as such on Form 1099-INT. A portion of these tax-exempt interest dividends may also be exempt from state or local tax, depending on the state and local tax laws that apply to you. There are no amounts reportable this year that are subject to AMT.

This table sets out the portion of tax-exempt interest earned in each state or U.S. territory during 2011. This is the portion of your tax-exempt interest dividends that may be exempt from state and local taxes. In addition to the interest earned within an applicable state, you may also be able to exclude interest earned in Puerto Rico. Please consult with your tax advisor or state tax authorities for more information.
